15.4	Any other information (including special achievements by the University which may be relevant for the University)	1. Staff Training: Staff training (Teaching and Non-teaching) is the prime motive of Rayat Bahra University. Mastering alternative models of teaching helps build competence and effectiveness in the repertoire of classroom teachers. However, because the attainment of new skills does not by itself ensure transfer to classroom use, teacher training programs incorporate study of the transfer process itself, reinforced by team effort. Accordingly, strategies are formed for a collaborative approach to teacher development, involving continuous training and study of both the academic substance and the craft of teaching. Orientation Programs for new faculty members are organized from time to time in the campus. The orientation programs are carried out under the supervision of Dean Academics. Teachers are made to understand the organization and management of University and their role in academics. This opportunity is utilized for development of personality, initiative, innovation, creativity, social skills and overall development of the budding teachers. Following strategies are formulated :-

		<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Integrate research and practice in learning to teach. 2. Sub.: Consideration of reply to show-cause notice and grant of extension of approval of affiliation to University School of Law, Rayat Bahra University, Mohali, Punjab for imparting three year LL.B course with intake of two sections of 60 students in each section for a period of two years i.e. for the academic years 2020-2021 and 2021-2022.

The academic years 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20 in respect of three year LL.B course is regularized subject to deposit a sum of Rs. 25,00,000/- (Rs. Twenty Five Lakh) towards penalty for regularizing the said years.

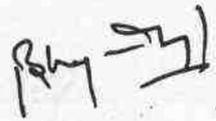

Sir,

This is to bring to your kind knowledge that the Standing Committee of Bar Council of India by virtue of its meeting held on 26th/27th/28th December, 2020 considered the matter of extension of approval of affiliation to three year LL.B course, five year BA LL.B course to University School of Law, Rayat Bahra University, Mohali, Punjab.

The Standing Committee considered the reply received from the Registrar, Rayat Bahra University, Mohali, Punjab vide letter No. RBU/REG/20/15 dated 22.12.2020 in response to show-cause notice issued by the Bar Council of India vide letter No. BCI:D:806/2020 (LE) dated 19.12.2020

In its reply to the show-cause notice, it is submitted by one Shri B.S. Satyal, Registrar, Rayat Bahra University that the management of the University/college has sought the approval of Bar Council of India vide letter No. USL/RBU/DEAN/3572 dated 29.12.2016 to start the 3 year LL.B. course from the session 2017-18 with an intake of one section i.e. 60 seats and in this regard requisite fee was also deposited on 23.12.2016. It is further the stand of the University that in the larger academic interests to the University decided to continue with the course as all the deposits mentioned above were duly acknowledged by the Bar Council of India and no objection was raised in this regard.

It is further submitted in the response that the then Vice-Chancellor and the Registrar of the University had processed the case of introduction of three year LL.B in compliance to Rule 19(ii) of Bar Council of India Legal Education Rules, 2008.

It is then the case of the University that on the strength of the aforesaid provisions and in anticipation of formal approval, the guarantee fee of Rs. 5 lakhs was also deposited to the Bar Council of India on 31.7.2020 and then the virtual inspection fee of Rs. 1 lakh was also deposited on 29.9.2020, which catered to requirements of granting of regular approval especially in the light of letter No. USL/RBU/DEAN/3572 dated 29.12.2016 already sent to the Bar Council of India and they never rejected or even deposited Rs. 3,50,000/- deposited nor returned Rs. 3,50,000/- submitted/deposited on 23.12.2016.

In the flashback of the aforesaid facts, the specific stand of the University is that at no stage they overlooked the rules & regulations and instructions of the Bar Council of India.

The standing Committee after considering the reply to the show-cause filed by the University is of the view that the stand taken by the University for introduction of 3 year LL.B. course in compliance Rule 19(ii) of Bar Council of India Legal Education Rules, 2008 is absolutely of no basis and the University cannot derive any advantage from that. It is a case of brazen violation of Rule 14 of Legal Education Rules, 2008 for which a very stern action can be taken against the University. This Centre of Legal Education was not a fresh CLE for which certain lapses can be condoned by the Standing Committee.

In this factual backdrop, it was not expected of this University to have violated the Legal Education Rules of Bar Council of India.

Under the normal circumstances, the University does not deserve any leniency or relaxation but keeping in view totality of acts and circumstances of the case at the end, since the students of 3 year LL.B course starting from 2017 have since passed out and must have chosen their career also by now, the Standing Committee is of the considered view that it would not be just to derecognize the degree of the students of these three academic sessions at this point of time as it would lead to putting the entire career of students at stake. At the same time, any order for suspending this CLE for other two academic years within the parameters of Rule 14(3) of Bar Council of India, 2008, would not be proper at his juncture as the next session is already in progress.

This is one aspect of the matter and the Standing Committee has taken into consideration the career of the students who have already passed out but what appears to the Standing Committee is that this University has perhaps thought that the violation committed at its end can be done away on the strength of Justice Kurian Joseph formula. This leverage in view of the Standing Committee cannot be extended to the University/Centre of Legal Education as it is not a safeguard mechanism provided for violating the rule, rather it is to be applied only in exceptional cases where the facts so warrant and not for violation of the rule with impunity as is done in the case and then at that end take the shelter of Justice Kurian Joseph formula.

However, keeping in view the totality of facts and circumstances of the present case, the Standing Committee is of the view that while regularizing the admission made by this University School of Law for 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20, Rs. 25,00,000/- (Twenty five lakhs rupees) would be a justifiable amount for imposing penalty on CLE (University School of Law) in question. that amount be deposited with Bar Council of India by 31st January 2021. With regard to the recommendations made by the Inspecting team for approval of two (2) sections of 60 students each for three year LL.B course for the next two years i.e. academic session 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 keeping in view that the CLE has a complete infrastructure with it, the library, moot court, legal aid clinic being in order excepts the conditions laid down and recommended by the inspecting team in its inspection note shall be complied with that the same can be allowed.

Further, the Committee observed and found that the CLE has not yet applied for approval of the existing BA LL.B and B.Com LL.B. courses for the year 2017-2018, 2018-2019, 2019-2020 and 2020-2021. It is apprehended that the University must have admitted students in those academic years in the existing courses without taking any approval in which case the University (The CLE in question) would have violated Rule 14 once again in case of existing courses. The existing courses may also be inspected on payment of inspection fees.

An undertaking of complying with all the conditions in this regard has to be filed by the College within four weeks by way of duly notarized affidavit and compliance of what is done by then must be mentioned therein.

Thereafter, further as and when actual compliance is done within the stipulated period another affidavit/s has/have to be filed, along with supporting documents.

After consideration of the matter, and subject to the undertaking and complying with conditions which have been enumerated herein, and subject to further conditions, extension of approval of affiliation to University School of Law, Rayat Bahra University, Mohali, Punjab be granted extension of approval of affiliation for imparting three year LL.B course with intake of two sections of 60 students in each section for a period of two years i.e. for the academic years 2020-2021 and 2021-2022 is hereby granted.

Further the academic years 2017-2018, 2018-2019 and 2019-2020 in respect of three year LL.B course is regularized subject to deposit a sum of Rs. 25,00,000/- (Rs. Twenty Five Lakh) towards penalty for regularizing the said years.

University/College authorities are also required to apply before the Bar Council of India for further extension of approval six months in advance before expiry of the period of approval of affiliation granted by the Bar Council of India. i.e. on or before 31st December, 2021 in respect of three year LL.B course.

Kindly note that if any, guarantee fee, and/or fee under any head is due and unpaid, the same shall be required to paid upon being intimated of the same.

You may kindly bear in mind that the Bar Council of India is the sole and supreme sanctioning authority for seats and as a general rule it does not allow any supernumerary quota of seats for law degree courses, over and above the sanctioned strength of seats and whatever reservation of seats is to done by the University as a general rule has to be done within sanctioned strength of seats.

Further kindly ensure to furnish authenticated and signed bank statements of salary transferred to your faculty and also Indian Bar Review and other minimum Library requirement purchase receipts, failing which the Center of Legal Education shall be liable to the natural consequences, which may include revocation of recognition/approval granted.

Enzyme	Cofactors	Function	Examples of disease
Prolyl hydroxylase	α -Ketoglutarate Molecular oxygen Ferrous iron Ascorbic acid	Hydroxylation of specific proline residues	Scurvy
Lysyl hydroxylase	As for prolyl hydroxylase	Hydroxylation of specific lysine residues	Ehlers-Danlos type VI ?Alkaptonuria
Galactosyl and glucosyl transferases	Manganese	Addition of galactose or galactose + glucose to specific hydroxylysine residues	??? Diabetic glomerulosclerosis
Procollagen peptidase	Unknown	Excision of N- and C-terminal precursor peptides to allow collagen fibril formation	Dermatosparaxis ?Ehlers-Danlos types I and VII
Lysyl oxidase	Copper Pyridoxal phosphate	Intra- and intermolecular cross-linking of collagen to give fibrils tensile strength	Osteolathyrism Copper deficiency Vitamin B6 deficiency Menkes's kinky-hair syndrome D-Penicillamine Mottled mouse defect Ehlers-Danlos type V ?Homocystinuria ?Cutis laxa

The lesion at the molecular level consists in a failure of hydroxylation of peptidyl proline in collagen and of certain peptidyl lysine residues, leading to the early degradation of the underhydroxylated collagen and consequently failure of the wound to heal.

Secondly, there has recently been described in two families a genetic disease characterised by hydroxylysine-deficient collagen due to defective lysyl hydroxylase activity (Pinnell et al., 1972; Eyre and Glimcher, 1972; Krane et al., 1972; Sussman et al., 1974; Quinn and Krane, 1976). The symptoms included skeletal deformities, stretchable skin, microcornea requiring enucleation after an accident, the 'floppy mitral valve' syndrome, and in one case death resulting from a dissecting aortic aneurysm. These cases have been classified as being of the type VI Ehlers-Danlos syndrome and the lesions are mostly explicable by faulty intermolecular cross-linking of collagen consequent on a lack of sufficient hydroxylysine residues.

FAULTS IN GLYCOSYLATION

Kidney glomerular basement membrane which contains type IV collagen is known to be highly glycosylated (Grant and Prockop, 1972; Kefalides, 1973). Spiro reported that the basement membrane in diabetic glomerulosclerosis was characterised by a collagen in which the hydroxylysine content and the number of glucosyl-galactose disaccharide units were much increased (Beisswenger and Spiro, 1970; Spiro and Spiro, 1971). Kefalides (1974) could not find this change in the diabetic glomerular basement membrane, but others have found chemical changes in the sugars (Kawamura, 1974). Consequently we must consider the possibility that change in the sugar composition of basement membrane collagen may represent the molecular defect in diabetic glomerulosclerosis. But obviously more evidence will be required before a firm conclusion can be drawn.

FAULTS IN PROCOLLAGEN PEPTIDASE

An error in the procollagen peptidase cleavage step has been found in animals and in man. This enzyme normally excises the precursor peptides once the precursor triple helix is secreted by the cell. A condition named dermatosparaxis ('torn skin') has been described in calves (Ansary et al., 1968; O'Hara et al., 1970; Simar and Betz, 1971) and in sheep (Helle and Nes, 1972) and has been studied by Lapière's group. They and others (Lenaers et al., 1972; Bailey and Lapière, 1973; Prockop et al., 1973; Hanset and Lapière, 1974; Fjølstad and Helle, 1974) showed that the skin fragility resulted from a genetic deficiency of procollagen peptidase, leading to a failure of complete excision of the precursor peptides, so that the resultant collagen molecules were unable to assemble and cross-link in the normal manner. In man there is an analogous condition, one of the Ehlers-Danlos types of genetic disease called the 'floppy mitral valve syndrome', in which myxomatous change of the mitral valve is accompanied by a systolic click. This too is thought to be due to a genetic deficiency of procollagen peptidase (Lichtenstein et al., 1973).

FAULTS IN CROSS-LINKING

In a number of conditions, as follow, the basic lesion is a defect in collagen cross-linking.
